

Calumet Baking Powder

has turned the tables on high price baking powders. The directions on High Price cans are the same as on Calumet cans, viz.: 2 teaspoonsful to a quart of flour, but they say that one can of High Price will go three times as far as any other. Can any claim be more ridiculous? The frantic cry of adulteration, danger and poison made by the high price baking powder people is a blind to intimidate the public and induce them to pay fancy prices for their goods—also to divert attention from this defect in their own goods.

Calumet Baking Powder is safe. Food baked with Calumet is absolutely free from Rochelle Salts, Alum, Lime, Ammonia or any injurious substance.

Monopoly must yield to moderation—
Impurity must improve or go under.
Calumet is the standard.

Bearing with Smiles.

Are the countenances of people who have found speedy and thorough relief from malarial, kidney, bilious, dyspeptic or nervous troubles through the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Such countenances are very numerous. So are letters from their owners attesting the efficacy of the great family medicine. Among the signals of distress thrown out by the stomach, bowels and liver in a state of disorder, are sick headache, heartburn, nausea, loss of appetite, sallowness of the skin and eyeballs, and an uncertain state of the bowels. They should be heeded at once. If the Bitters are resorted to, the worn, haggard look which accompanies sickness will give way to cheerful looks produced by renewed health. If you are drifting on the coast of disease, throw an anchor to windward by summing up the Bitters to your assistance. It will keep you in safety.

Photographic Light.

A remarkable kind of light for photographic purposes is described by C. F. Townsend, an English artist, in the Photograph—A light of 400 candle power, he says, for 10 cubic feet of gas burned per hour and costing only 1 farthing—noiseless, powerful, soft and absolutely steady. The efficiency of this new burner is due to the fact that the gas and air are mixed perfectly before reaching the flame; and consequently the combustion is perfect, another important point being that the gas and air travel at the same rate, so that there is no noise or flickering. This desirable end is attained by causing the air and gas to pass through a spiral tube, or series of tubes, whence they issue thoroughly mixed, but it is essential to success that the tubes be cut to a particular pitch or angle, which the inventor has determined. As a protection against any hazard, the mixing tubes are safeguarded by wire gauze, though even without this the quantity of air and gas actually mixed at one time is declared to be too small to cause an explosion. The air necessary for combustion is supplied by a small injector, worked by water pressure. For a large installation a metal one is required, but where only a few lamps are used a glass one, such as is commonly used in chemical laboratories, is sufficient. The cost of the metal injector reaches perhaps to $5, that of glass only a few shillings. A few feet of iron or composition piping, as the case may be, is an additional small item, and the expense of the power is insignificant.

Business Interests Too Timid.

The business interests will be wise to assume that there is not to be any revolutionary tariff legislation and that coming business must be adjusted in the main to existing tariff conditions. If this is assumed and the business interests at once proceed to make the most of present conditions conducive to a business revival, the revival will come. The way to restore confidence is to be confident, and to be confident today, to-morrow and all days in the future. People should stop croaking, stop complaining of dull times and disappointment at the failure of trade to revive and go to work to revive trade by making good goods and putting them upon the market with discretion and energy.—Philadelphia Times.

Who does not know women and young girls who are continually in tears? Who always weeps at the dark side? Who have frequently fits of melancholy without any apparent cause? The intelligent physician will know that it is some derangement of the complicated and delicate feminine organs. The young girl suffers, bodily and mentally, in silence. There is undue weariness, unexpected pain, unreasonable tears and fits of temper. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures a wonderful power over woman's delicate organism. It is an invigorating tonic and is specific for the peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and painful derangements of woman. Careless, easy-going doctors frequently treat their women patients for biliousness, nervousness, dyspepsia, liver or kidney troubles, when the real sickness is in the organs distinctly feminine, and no help can come till they are made perfectly strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page Common Sense Medical Adviser, illustrated.

The True Remedy.

W. M. Repine, editor Itaska, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for coughs, colds, whooping cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at Will E. Collins & Co's drug store.

We would like to look into the pleasant face of some one who has never had any derangement of the digestive organs. We see the drawn and unhappy faces of dyspepsia in every walk of life. It is our national disease, and nearly all complaints spring from this source. Remove the stomach difficulty and the work is done.

Dyspepsia and pale, thin people are literally starving, because they don't digest their food. Consumption never develops in people of robust and normal digestion. Correct the wasting and loss of flesh and we cure the disease. Do this with food.

In view of the present uprising of the Greeks in Crete, an article in the March Forum—the last from his pen—by the late Prof. John Stuart Blackie, the celebrated Philologist and Philhellene, is very timely in that it gives an absorbingly interesting and eloquent account of the present political and economic position of Greece. Prof. Blackie very pertinently remarks that although the Greeks have been miserably downtrodden by the Turks for four hundred years, there nevertheless lives beneath the outward show of slavish debasement, a heart of sturdy independence that cherishes the patriotic memories of ages and seizes eagerly on every chance that may enable it to stand before the world as a noble people determined to die rather than live the slaves of hateful tyranny. With its finances on a stable basis he predicts a glorious future for Greece.

Offensive Catarrh.

Catarrh is seemingly one of the most complicated of ailments, and one which the doctors are absolutely unable to cure. The reasons for this are easily explained. Catarrh is a blood disease, and only a blood remedy can effect it. The various sprays, douches and washes which are employed as a local treatment, may, for a time, alleviate the trouble, but no one ever knew of such treatment producing a cure. They can not reach the seat of the disease, as the experience of many sufferers will prove; nothing can do so except a real blood remedy.

In the treatment of Catarrh, S. S. S. has demonstrated the fact that it reaches deep-seated diseases, which other remedies can not touch.

Mr. Chas. A. Parr, the leading wall paper dealer, of Athens, Ga., writes: "For months I suffered from a severe case of catarrh. The many offensive symptoms were accompanied by severe pains in the head. I took several kinds of medicines recommended for catarrh, and used various local applications, but the disease had become so deep-seated that they had no effect whatever. I was alarmed at my condition, as I knew this disease invariably descended to the lungs, ending in consumption. I was induced to take S. S. S. (Swift's Specific), and after two months I was perfectly well, and have never felt any effects of the disease since."

S. S. S. is the only blood remedy which it is impossible to imitate. There is a substitute for most of them, for they are all alike—contain the same ingredients, and are made in the same manner. But there is no substitute for S. S. S., as it is in every way different from every other blood remedy offered to the public. Its nature is a remedy, being made from roots and herbs gathered from the forests, and contains not a particle of mercury, potash or other drug. It is not a drug-store remedy, and not a single ingredient can be obtained from a chemist's shop. S. S. S. (Swift's Specific) is the only blood remedy which is guaranteed to be Purely Vegetable.

All others are founded on mercury and potash.

Deep-seated and obstinate blood troubles, such as Cancer, Scrofula, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Eczema, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., which other remedies do not reach, yield readily to the curative powers of S. S. S. Books on blood and skin diseases will be mailed free to any address: Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.
